RWU Resolution on Building Real Rail Safety

(Adopted 9-02-08)

Whereas, many currently existing joint "safety committees" and safety programs that are composed of representatives of both rail management and rail labor are, for the most part, designed solely by the carriers; and

Whereas, the model that these committees and programs primarily adhere to is one based upon a concept known as "Behavior Based Safety" (BBS); and

Whereas, this model of safety does not address the most important means by which we can successfully create a safe workplace; i.e., the elimination of workplace hazards; and

Whereas, BBS programs do nothing to address the problems at their origin, which are corporate, managerial and regulatory designs and decisions that may actually be the root cause of a number of workplace hazards; and

Whereas, while the carriers are content to advocate a BBS approach, this strategy simply serves to save the company money while doing nothing to address real issues that we as workers face everyday – inadequate new hire training, lack of adequate qualifying time, crew fatigue, faulty equipment, slip-trip-fall hazards, etc.; and

Whereas, a genuine "union based" rail safety program would be a cooperative effort between members of all rail unions, where both worker behavior AND hazard elimination are given due consideration; and

Whereas, the focus has always been on worker behavior, and despite worker participation in safety programs, management continues to spy on, harass, discipline and fire, leaving countless rank-and-file rail workers cynical, bitter and resentful about the carriers' safety programs; and

Whereas, as a result of this, numerous union locals of the various crafts across the continent have withdrawn in disgust and protest from such joint union-management safety committees altogether; and

Whereas, much of organized labor – including the AFL-CIO and large industrial unions like the Steelworkers (USWA), Auto Workers (UAW) and Transport Workers Union (TWU) have condemned BBS as a fraud, gimmick and union busting tool that only benefits the company to the detriment of union solidarity and real worker safety;

Therefore, be it Resolved, that Railroad Workers United condemns Behavioral Based Safety as a detriment to union members' safety and union solidarity, designed to only benefit the company; and

Be it Further Resolved that RWU urges rank-and-file union members to build independent, union based safety committees that are accountable to their members: and

Be it Further Resolved that RWU advocates the building of genuine union operated safety committees which address hazard elimination, not just worker behavior; and

Be it Further Resolved, that RWU calls on the various unions to stand united on this vital issue of safety and refuse to allow management to pit one member, one craft and/or one union against another in our efforts to build such programs on the various rail properties throughout North America; and

And be it Finally Resolved that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the International officialdom of all rail unions in North America.
